

"Some ideas wander for a long time.
Then one day, they find their place."

"Notes, Notices & Small Mysteries from Duckdom"

SUNDAY AFTERNOON IN DUCKDOM

Every Sunday, Duckdom slows down.

The Village Green fills with families, friends and neighbours enjoying a quiet day together.

Kites drift across the sky, stories are shared, and everyone finds a place to sit and enjoy the afternoon.

Watching over it all from the distant hillside stands Duckdom's Bell Tower. Its bell is rarely needed, but its familiar silhouette has become part of the village itself, reminding everyone that home is never far away.

Sometimes the best days in Duckdom are the simplest ones.

Some days are for being together. Nothing else is required.

MONDAY — WHILE THINGS WERE BEING ORGANISED

Monday Morning at the President's Desk

Turbo arrives early.

The Village Green is still quiet.

The Bulletin has been delivered.

The flag is moving gently in the breeze.

Turbo pins a new notice to the board.

Not a rule. Not an order.

Just a reminder.

"Duckdom works best when everyone helps a little."

"NOTES FROM THE ANT HILL"

THE ANT CREW

While most of Duckdom was still waking up,
the Ant Crew were already hard at work.

Carrying, stacking, sorting,
and somehow fixing problems
before anyone even noticed them.

No one quite knows how they stay so organised...
But Duckdom would probably fall apart without them.

Wormy says:

"Letters do better when they are given time."

WORMY'S WEDNESDAY WISDOM

"Some things grow best when no one is watching."

"Some words... need a little help to stay in place."

'SETTLESPROUT'

WORD: SETTLESPROUT

Meaning:

The happy feeling that appears when an idea finally finds where it belongs.

Example:

"The Village Green gave everyone a serious case of settlesprout."

Wormy says:

"Some ideas wander for a long time. Then one day... they stop wandering."

Wormy closed his book... just a little.

FRIDAY — AT THE VILLAGE GREEN

"Friday arrived in Duckdom.
There were no meetings, no inspections
and no mysteries to solve.
So everyone spent the afternoon building sandcastles
on the Village Green.
Some followed the plans.
Some improved the plans.
Some ignored the plans completely.
By the end of the day nobody could remember who had built what.
Everyone agreed it was wonderful."

The ants of Duckdom are small... but their work is very important.

MEET THE ANTS

The ants are Duckdom's hardworking team. From sunrise to sunset, they can be found carrying, building, sweeping, repairing, and helping wherever they are needed. They work quietly, rarely stop for long, and somehow always know exactly what needs doing next. Nobody knows how many ants there are. Whenever a task appears, so do they. If something in Duckdom suddenly looks cleaner, tidier, or better organised than it did yesterday, there's a good chance the ants had something to do with it.
