

"Where Small Things Were Being Carefully Organised"

"Notes, Notices & Small Mysteries from Duckdom"

SUNDAY — GARY JOINS THE WALK

Nobody was entirely sure when Gary had joined the group. One moment the path was quiet... and the next, there he was. Walking along quite happily, slightly behind everyone else, carrying absolutely nothing important. Gary didn't always understand the plans. Or the lists. Or why Kevin suddenly needed seventeen pieces of paper. But he liked being included. And somehow... Duckdom liked that too.

MONDAY — WHILE THINGS WERE BEING ORGANISED

President Turbo is in the Duckdom office. Progress is being made. Spelling is a work in progress.

"NOTES FROM THE ANT HILL"

'DORM-ANT'

"When ants are having a well-earned rest, usually on a quiet day like Sunday.

Dorm-ant happens after:

- a lot of carrying
- a lot of sorting
- and a lot of good work

Wormy says:

"Rest is part of the job."

Wormy says:

"Letters do better when they are given time."

WORMY'S WEDNESDAY WISDOM

While plans were being made...and papers carefully stacked...

Wormy was already at work.

He didn't organise things. He looked after what mattered.

Quietly. Kindly. Constantly.

Duckdom would come to depend on this...long before it realised.

"Some words... need a little help to stay in place."

WORD: 'NIB-BLE'

Meaning: A very small bite taken very slowly, so it can be enjoyed properly.

Nib-bles are best eaten when you are calm, happy, and not in a rush.

Wormy says:

"Big snacks are exciting. Nib-bles are important."

Wormy closed his book... just a little.

FRIDAY — DUCKDOM'S DAY OFF

Nothing particularly important happened in Duckdom today. Which everyone agreed was excellent.

Kevin practiced "advanced pond techniques"
Gary arrived carrying far too many things
Rusty helped organise the picnic blankets
And Purr attended from a safe observational distance
The ants declared it a very successful day off.

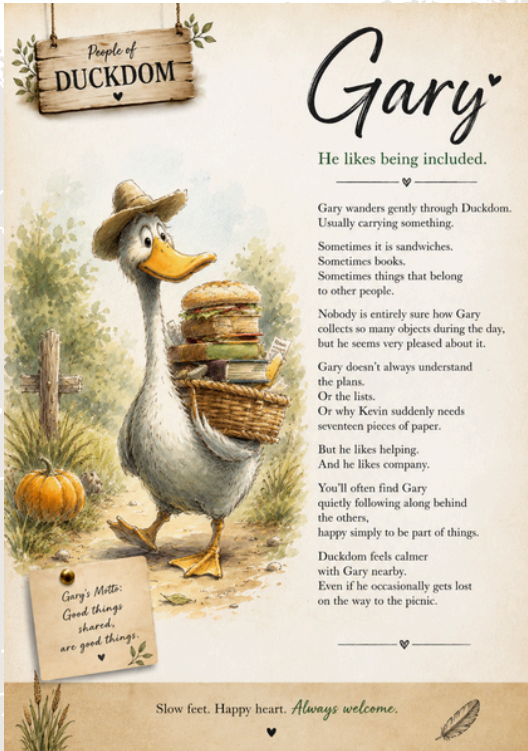

Mostly because nobody dropped paperwork into the river. Some days in Duckdom are not for rushing.

They are for sunshine, small snacks, soft conversations, and sitting quietly beside people you like

The ants of Duckdom are small... but their work is very important.

MEET GARY THE GOOSE

He likes being included.

Gary wanders gently through Duckdom.

Usually carrying something.

Sometimes it is sandwiches. Sometimes books.

Sometimes things that belong to other people.

Nobody is entirely sure how Gary collects so many objects during the day, but he seems very pleased about it.

Gary doesn't always understand the plans. Or the lists.

Or why Kevin suddenly needs seventeen pieces of paper.

But he likes helping. And he likes company.

You'll often find Gary quietly following along behind the others, happy simply to be part of things.

Duckdom feels calmer with Gary nearby.

Even if he occasionally gets lost on the way to the picnic.

"Slow feet. Happy heart. Always welcome."

KEVIN'S IMPROVEMENTS

Good intentions may lead to unexpected places.

KEVIN TRIES DIVING

He climbs somewhere slightly too high.

Announces: "Observe!"

Then performs an enormously dramatic leap into approximately four inches of water while Turbo sighs quietly in the background

NEW TO DUCKDOM

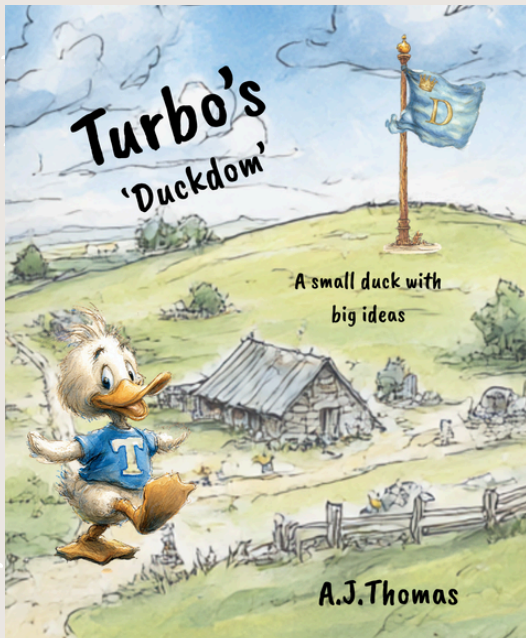

Something new has appeared in Duckdom...

A place for notes, notices...
and things that might matter later.

If you're passing by...
you may want to stop and take a look.

FROM THE DUCKDOM SHELF

Turbo's Duckdom

Before the adventures... there was an idea

A small duck who believed the world could be kinder... and built a place to prove it.

Welcome to Duckdom

UNTIL NEXT WEEK...

The signpost is still there...

but it may not be pointing where you remember.

And if you pass by it...

you might want to look down, just for a moment.

"If you've ever wondered where Duckdom began..."
